

Possible Ammonite curse-- comes against her design- is a Mercy produces barrenness. Projects never gain an internal, self-propelling momentum. Everything has to be pushed to go anywhere. Curse comes from trying to buy the favor of God-- perhaps the entire family wanting grandpa to become a priest!!!

Its the negative "powerball" lose!-- all of these are intertwined-- the curse, the labels, the disinheritance, the loss of resources and favor, the attack on your design and the loss of essence

To break the curse-- repent on behalf of family, repent for any ways you have tried to buy the favor of God repent for any sacrifices which you made that were not of God, repent of extreme generosity (subconsciously buying the favor of man)

Ask God to enlarge your capacity to feel His Love when you haven't earned it.

Embrace the principle of compensation, Embrace pain as "Father filtered"

Release bitterness and come into alignment with who HE sees you to be

Embrace your essence-- WHO you are instead of WHERE you are!

This leads us to inner vows or wrong responses to rejection, frustrantion and pain
Repent and renounce inner vows, and proclaim the truth that all pain is "Father filtered" and of VALUE

Possible Aramean curse- as has strong prophet portion-- keeps you from receiving justice at any level in the human community. Has to do with social contracts-- damaging relationships, treated unfairly, consistently violated

Comes into family line when use gift - ability to fix things/problem solving to get legitimacy- doing good things for the wrong reasons-- (druids, masons,) building the structure of your life around the need for legitimacy

May have a little of this-- but doesn't feel as strong--

Already did renunciations-- ask God to remove any residual effects
