dreamer making progress from last dream! She is "changing!"

I was at a retreat center/hotel and everyone was leaving. I went back to my room to pack and realized that I was running late. The cleaning crew was outside of my room waiting to get in to clean it. I was changing and had this great desire to expose my breasts to them (I have had 3 dreams this month about wanting to show/expose my breasts to people) But instead I continued packing. I had filled one suitcase and then realized that my 3 younger kids were there too and had to pack up their stuff. Every cabinet and drawer I opened had more clothes/ valuables in it. I kept wondering why I had brought so much stuff! We were going home and then on to Kansas City- meeting my husband there. I only had 2 suitcases so I piled things up by category hoping to sort through them. Some things I put in plastic bags. I opened one cabinet (after I thought I was finished and found all of my kids trophy's etc. I couldn't imagine why I had brought those with me! I had food too. Early on I had packed one suitcase with muffin tins and cookie sheets. It had taken up the whole suitcase...I would have to reconsider how I was packing.

Lastly I came upon a great number of my husbands clothes all folded nicely (he hadn't even come with us!) I got those down and thought, "how am I going to pack all of this stuff?"

awareness of time issue

wants to nurture others

still only 2 suitcases

only wants to take the "goodies" made herself responsible for all of his stuff-- even if he has things in order

"still needs the dump truck" "just want to pack the goodies"

What would you title the dream?

over achiever more issues still packing piled high

Dream 2- essence

dreamer still overwhelmed with stuff- running late

"you can't take it with you"- should be the title of this series- lol

Recurrent themes from dream 1 temporary place, leaving, too much stuff/ lots of crap, late- would rather have the sweet stuff, wants to do other things instead of pack, feels responsible for everyone's stuff, avoiding-- "still stuck in the "stuff" dreamer is a procrastinator!

dreamer in denial
