

Recurring Dream Series Elements:

Trying to find an appropriate prom dress to attend the Senior prom (I am not in high school!!)

mature- dreamer at higher level a little more exclusive- about to graduate- highest level at an institution

prom dress- formal attire for special occasion- very special event prom is often a rite of passage for a young woman something that suits her-- that compliments her unique design-- something stunning something that suits the occasion

Why is the dreamer having these dreams?

dreamer getting ready for something very special-- brainstorming trying to find her identity as God's daughter- coming into a mature level of knowing who she is-- figuring out how to present herself it shapes your identity This is something she does not already have-- needs to acquire it

What does the dreamer need to do (or stop doing) /learn/ or address to "get off the bus?"

"ask the Lord "what does this mean and what do I have to do!" exercise "what would you feel like wearing the right dress---- very special-- like a read song of solomon!- how beautiful you are my dove, there is no flaw in you find out how to be comfortable in her own skin find her own unique style for the formal and more mature thing that she is walking into

What would you say to the dreamer?

Dreamer you seem to be coming into a season or occasion of finding out how special you are

This is an invitation to discover your true self and discover the joy of being a princess, for you are God's child

Can add that this is a process, add that she may be having difficulty finding something that is appropriate for what she is walking into

You are searching for something for your identity and call, in this stage in your spiritual journey. Ask God and he will help you discover something fitting for your unique design.

Dreamer, this is a beautiful dream which reveals the process you are going through as you discover your own unique style as you mature. The dream suggests you are walking into something more formally and are searching for something you can move comfortably in.