

Child's Dream: Dream #1

This is my daughters dream, at the time, her dad was resigning from his staff position at church (from a ministry which the pastor's wife led) literal or the church stuff being hidden - swept under the rug so to speak

I was watching as the pastor's wife swept a pile of stuff under the couch. Then I went and swept it up for her and put it in the trash.

intercession from pure source dealt with completely / contained Then our family was all upstairs in a place like the Marriott that had very high ceilings and a pool and hot tubs.

temporary place of refreshment poss family vaca - spiritual

What would you title the dream?

a new place; leave the trash behind and hit the hot tubs!; sweeping leads to higher refreshment; calgon take me away; clean sweep

Who or what is the dream for?

the dreamer and possibly the dreamer's family - for encouragement

Compelling dream elements:

pastor's wife - literal or the church sweeping - hiding stuff by p's wife; intercession by child trash - stuff is contained marriott - temp place of spiritual refreshment and rest/pampering possible vaca from church high ceilings - less confining more free pool and hot tubs - refreshment and relaxation

Essence of the dream:

dreamer's actions are helping to move the family to a place of refreshment

What do you think God is saying to the child, and how would you share that with them?

you did a great job helping to clean that up!
Wow! this is a really encouraging dream!
your dream shows your work has brought you and your family to a new place in the spirit where they can now rest
It seems that you have seen some stuff that might not have been taken care of in the best way, and this dream shows that your intercession is able to contain things in such a way that brings your family to a place of refreshment-- You were probably doing actual intercession in your dream.

Your dream shows that you are noticing some things being inappropriately hidden. You choose to address the situation through intercession which contains it and leads to a new place of spiritual refreshment for you and your family.
