

Why was the dreamer given the dream?

for encouragement, opportunity to change - go deeper - in relationship with god and to affirm that decision and establish the power (grace) to maintain the new place.

Class Interpretations:

(What would you say to the dreamer?)

The dreamer is feeling overwhelmed however, the holy spirit is showing himself as gentle and helping her to trust in him and in their relationship. He is showing her she has the strength to overcome. great job! you catch God's gentle spirit toward the dreamer with your words. since final part of dream is so specific, a more specific end would be appropriate and add that much more encouragement for the dreamer. perhaps replacing last sentence with something like: Within the dream, God provides and establishes the ability for you to overcome your fears and be real with Him both now and going forward. (i also find it helpful to speak directly to the dreamer - it helps me think about how i would feel on the other end.)

Additional Comments or revelation for the dreamer:

your choice to "hang out" and position yourself to be with God and really see him for who he is opened you up to receive the breakthrough - the grace/power of God for a transformed relationship.
