

Why was the dreamer given the dream?

to give them an encouraging experience w/the Lord; to help them in their intimate relationship w/God; to show them their progress in their relationship w/God

Class Interpretations:

(What would you say to the dreamer?)

This dream is to show you that God is drawing you into a more deeper relationship and that he will cultivate qualities of gentleness , grace and kindness.

comments: caught feeling of dream; caution - need to keep verbiage w/in context of dream.

2nd try: This dream is showing you that God is moving you into more intimate relationship and that he wants to show you this is a safe place in being real. (showing him your deeper self) comments: caught feeling, verbiage closer - good work! ending - better even still could be: "allowing yourself to let go w/out a backups."

Dreamer this dream is showing your love relationship with the Lord and encouraging you to go deeper. This will have far reaching results.

comments: great start - great one-line interp. enhance w/ more details added last sentence - good reference to the amplified portion. perhaps to get a little deeper: As you relate with God from your heart this way, you will be expanded in ways that will reach beyond your natural abilities.

Dreamer- what a wonderful dream!

This dream shows a growing maturity in your spiritual journey and ministry. Where before you needed the structured support of others, - God is now amplifying your offering as you go solo. The dream shows that in this new maturity you are learning how to operate under the anointing without losing focus, and the feeling is exhilarating!

Additional Comments or revelation for the dreamer:

David was a singer with an intimate relationship with the lord.

I get the feeling that the Lord is going to take this dreamer in some great supernatural experiences.

In the past, people fell out in the spirit-- now God is looking for those who can "stand" under the power of his anointing!- this dream shows that you are learning how to do just that!
