

Arena-- spiritually poor place--- a few prospering (at the expense of others?) Not building community dreamers capacity to minister to others possibilities not being actualized yet- only benefit the already priveleged

Dream Text:

I was in this third world country, at least that's what it seemed like. It was almost like India, but I don't think it was a specific country. I was driving a bus, and it was empty at first. I was driving through what seemed like slums, full of poverty, and yet there were all these massive houses/mansions being built in the midst of these slums where people barely had shacks to live in. They were still just skeletal frameworks as I drove through, but people were building them. It struck me as really odd.

doesn't make sense to dreamer-- not good community planning!

location location location!

destructive fire (not holy spirit- kids in danger) trial / testing/ judgment

As I drove on I saw a fire in the poor part of town, and I knew that it was an orphanage that had caught fire so I told everyone to save the kids and put them all in my empty bus so they would be safe.

Fire- people getting "burned"

organizational structure

I ran into the building and grabbed a young boy who was maybe 7 years old, and I carried him to the bus. I held him for a but and he begged me not to let him go to someone else because no one had ever loved him, and he wanted so badly to be loved. I promised him I would never let him go, but that I had to rescue more kids.. to wait on the bus and I would be back for him.

dreamer- in right place at right time-- synchronized with God's timing-- opportunity to strategically bring others along

I ran in again and rescued a baby this time. At first the baby was a siamese twin, a boy and a girl who shared one body. I fell in love with the baby and didn't want to let it go. Eventually it seemed to me that it was a just a girl, not a siamese twin anymore. More kids were rescued, but I kept those two as my own children.

What would you title the dream?

(helps to unlock the essence of the dream)

"Get on the Bus Gus" "Hop on the Bus" "Rescue Mission" "Pulling the Beauty out of the Garbage" "Rescuing the Orphans" "Slumming it"

New title: " We didn't start the fire....."

Who or what is the dream for?

(For the dreamer? For Intercession? Prophetic message for a group? Etc.)

Dreamer-- for intercession for group

Compelling Dream Elements: (follow the revelation!)

Orphanage--- an organization that cares for the fatherless, the outcast -- likely a ministry or church-- taking in those who have been rejected or abandoned by spiritual families orphanages in third world countries are just dumping grounds for rejected children. They don't really ever leave--- they're kept alive but not much else

Bus-- ability to bring others along-- ministry impacting/ influencing people --- note no one "on board" with her yet, so probably not a defined ministry yet-- I would call it something the dreamer is operating in- definately has the capacity to impact people and even become a ministry kids dreamer rescues a number of kids (implied) but keeps:

approx 7 yr old boy- in general boy represents a young/ immature - still developing leadership gift/ministry siamese twins-- boy and girl babies sharing one body- at end of dream just a girl baby

2 entities unnaturally joined unable to live out distinct destinies-- co-dependency!

after get rescued-- seems just a girl- perception of this ministry/ may be changing into a more healthy one
